

JAMES NAISMITH
BUILDER

Misty Thomas – Athlete Induction Class of 1998

- Thomas was a point guard for the Runnin Rebels women's basketball team as a point guard where she led the Rebels to the NCAA tournament for the first time ever
- Thomas had a career leading in assists with 658 and the second leader in scoring points as 1,892 and is sixth in career rebound with 790
- Thomas became the Big West conference player of the year in 1985
- Thomas competed in the L.A Olympics in 1984
- Thomas also competed on Canada's national team for 7 years
- After playing for the Rebels, Thomas became an assistant coach with UNLV, and then a head coach at the University of British Columbia
- She also started a program called "Night Hoops" in Vancouver that is designed to help high-risk kids

